

But I Do

(Henry Hipkens 1997)

One kiss is not enough
To know how you always will feel
One night is not enough
To show you that a love is for real
Who could guaranty
This love was meant to be
One can't know it's true
But I do, but I do, but I do

In love nothing is certain
Until the curtain there's doubt
Like claims of perpetual motion
Undying devotion rarely pans out